What's the difference between OPP Club, Lunch Detention, and After School Detention?

OPP Club is a time for students to complete missing or incomplete homework and/or missed classwork or tests. OPP Club takes place in a designated classroom during lunch recess. A note will be sent home in the agenda indicating when and why the student attended OPP Club.

Lunch Detention is a consequence for low-level undesired behaviors or actions. It takes place in a designated classroom during lunch recess. A lunch detention will be given if a student is missing three or more parent signatures in his/her agenda in a week or if a student has his/her card changed to red for behaviors such as excessive talking or playing around in the hallway. Parents will be notified of lunch detentions through their child's agenda or email.

After School Detention is a consequence for higher-level undesired behaviors or actions. It takes place after school from 3:15-3:45, M-Th. Any student who displays inappropriate, dangerous, or repeated unacceptable behavior will be issued an after school detention. Students who miss three or more days of homework per week will also be issued an after school detention. Parents will be notified by email or phone call and teacher may require a meeting to discuss further actions.
